Many people have spend a lot of money and time learning about options to help get better returns on their investments. In this crazy market any way we can get a little more money on our retirement should be a welcome advantage allowed by the government. When you have a stock you are keeping in a retirement account and want to get a little more income every two months by selling a covered call, why would the government step in to prevent this from happening.

I urge you to allow the trading of options in retirement accounts to continue since most people will not receive a pension so it is imperative we are allowed to grow our retirement as much as possible.

Thank you for considering my viewpoint.
